James L. Ferraro

The Ferraro Law Firm proudly congratulates David Jagolinzer for his inclusion on the 2011 Florida Rising Stars list!

Former Federal Prosecutors Fighting For You.

In 2010, visionaries James Ferraro and David Jagolinzer expanded the firm again with the addition of a team of former federal prosecutors including the former U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of Florida, Jeffrey Sloman. With over 55 years combined experience, this team represents whistleblowers in qui tam claims against corporations under the False Claims Act. Their significant prior government experience enables them to pinpoint the precise issues that constitute a viable whistleblower case and tackle the nuances required to shepherd a claim through its presentation to the government. In addition, their in-depth knowledge of the federal government's policies, practices and procedures provides an integral ability to provide representation to an individual or corporation charged with a white-collar crime, including health-care fraud, mortgage fraud, securities and banking fraud, and computer crimes, amongst others.

James Ferraro, David Jagolinzer and the team of attorneys of The Ferraro Law Firm have earned a nationwide reputation because they have proven they can fight against negligent companies, no matter how big.

Trial Attorneys Fighting For Your Rights.

Partners James Ferraro and David Jagolinzer have assembled a team of attorneys devoted to winning cases through relentless discovery and pre-trial preparation. This devotion is driven by understanding the devastation caused by serious injury and tragic loss to individuals and their families. The Ferraro Law Firm concentrates on handling the most serious cases, such as mesothelioma and other asbestos related diseases, environmental toxic torts, product liability, catastrophic personal injury and wrongful death. The Ferraro Law Firm has garnered national attention for its work representing victims of asbestos exposure and environmental toxins. Our reputation is strong and our courtroom successes have been noted in both national and local media. Mr. Ferraro's verdict against DuPont for a birth defect caused by chemical exposure resulted in his nomination as one of ten national finalists for Trial Lawyer of the Year in 1997. Mr. Jagolinzer's verdict against Honeywell for an asbestos cancer was among the National Law Journal's Top 100 Verdicts of 2008.

Tax Controversy Attorneys Working For You.

In 2007, James Ferraro and David Jagolinzer had the foresight to hire Scott Knott and Greg Lynam, seasoned tax attorneys with years of experience at large international law firms representing some of the world's biggest companies. They lead a team of tax lawyers at The Ferraro Law Firm exclusively representing tax whistleblowers. The Ferraro Law Firm offers tax whistleblowers the same high-quality representation the largest corporations and wealthiest individuals enjoy. Since inception of the IRS Whistleblower Rewards program, The Ferraro Law Firm has submitted in excess of $60 billion in whistleblower claims on behalf of our clients.

We have taken on the Goliaths of today's business and insurance industries. We are ready, willing, and able to dedicate the resources necessary to protect you in every way and to make the entire experience go as smoothly as possible.
